Privacy Statement

Our Commitment To Privacy

Your privacy is very important to us. We value your privacy and have made it our policy to provide on-line content that requires minimal collection of information. Furthermore, to better protect your privacy we provide this notice explaining our information practices and the choices you can make about the way your information is collected and used.

How We Collect Information

Below are some of the ways in which you may provide information to us and how we may use that information.

Domain Name Recognition

Our web servers automatically recognize your domain name; however, they do not recognize your e-mail.

Information Actively Provided by Our Visitors

We do not require you to register or provide any information before entering our website. However, there are several places where you may choose to provide personally identifiable information. Unless we tell you otherwise, we will use the information for the purpose the information was provided.

For example:

E-mail Newsletters: Some of our pages permit visitors to register to receive e-mail newsletters or updates in the future by providing your e-mail address. Any e-mail you receive from us will allow you to "unsubscribe" from this informational service at any time.

Other Features: There may be other features available on our website which may require some personally identifiable information to use the feature. We only use the personally identifiable information to provide the feature and delete it within a reasonable period of time after the information is no longer necessary.

Business Partners

We may link out to other web sites. It is important to note that those web sites may not have the same privacy policies as us and you should check their privacy policies before submitting any personal information to them.

Our Commitment To Data Security

To prevent unauthorized access, maintain data accuracy, and ensure the correct use of information, we have put in place and will continue to improve appropriate physical, electronic, and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect on-line.

How You Can Access Or Correct Your Information

If you have any questions regarding the information we have collected about you, please contact us directly.

This Privacy Policy Is For Our On-line Consumers

This Privacy Policy is for our consumers who visit our internet site. It does not apply to information which we may collect by means other than over the Internet and it does not apply to businesses which may use our site.

Links

Our policy is to link only to other sites which are appropriate for visitors to our website. However, because content on websites can change quickly, we cannot always guarantee the appropriateness of the content of sites we link to.

How To Contact Us

If you have other questions or concerns about our privacy policy, please contact us directly.
